VERNON LEE

Northcote House, 2011. Soft cover. Condition: New. 128pp Writers & Their Work Series [In stock in Australia now for immediate despatch] An examination of the innovative literary works of one of the most influential women writers of the late-Victorian and early-Modernist periods This book is the first full-scale exploration of the fiction of one of the most influential women writing in English in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. While Lee's work was well-admired in her own day, her fiction and her writings on aesthetics, 'The Woman in Question' and psychology appeared anachronistic to later 20th-century audiences. The recent upsurge of interest in the culture of the fin de siècle and lesbian Modernist writing has assured Lee a well-deserved critical resurrection and this book explores her ground-breaking literary work in light of the turbulent friendships that she had with figures such as Oscar Wilde, H. G. Wells and Virginia Woolf. A belle-lettriste, a self-consciously Continental intellectual and a pacifist, Lee's changing authorial masks doubly participate and anticipate the wider shift from Victorian earnestness to Modernist play marking British letters over the course of 50 years. Ultimately, however, Lee emerges as an increasingly isolated figure harried both by her attraction to other women and the incipient destruction of her beloved Europe in the 'Great Game' of empire. Readership: *Students of literature in schools and in higher education *Teachers of post-colonial literature *Scholars valuing the extensive and up-to-date bibliography *Senior secondary, academic and public libraries Key Points: *The first full-length study of Vernon Lee *Comprehensive and concise study suitable for students and general readers alike *Accessible style written by a leading academic Sondeep Kandola is Lecturer in Victorian Literature, University of Leeds.
