Congressional Sales Office, 2002. OCLC Number: (OCoLC)50703006 Subject: Ethnology -- China. Excerpt: . . . 11 grading the skills of local doctors to improve the quality of health services they provide. Success in improving the quality rural health services would also have the effect of building greater confidence in the rural health system, and increasing the utilization of available services. United States NGOs can help expand Tibetan community access to rural credit for income generating purposes. My NGO is currently providing small loans to about 1, 000 Tibetan families. We find that after 4 years we have about a 95 percent pay back on loans. This is a payback rate substantially higher than the payback in the formal banking system catering more to the urban commercial sector. We also believe that United States NGOs can provide valuable technical and financial support to Tibetan entrepreneurs and enterprises in rural and urban areas. So there are a range of practical, economic, and social development initiatives that can and should be promoted by United States NGOs. I think United States government support to United States NGOs can expand and enhance the value of United States NGOs helping to improve working and living conditions for Tibetans in Tibet. It can also help to project the kinds of values and priorities that we think are important for Tibet. OLF Mr. W. Increased support Do you mean U. S. money to NGOs Mr. H. Financial support through NGOs. OLCOMBE OLF Mr. W. Good. Bhuchung, please. Mr. T. In addition to what Mr. Holcombe mentioned, the SERING greatest problem that..
